

President John F. Kennedy and Jackie Kennedy, 1962 #2

Here we have the President leaving the Jesuit Order's St. Francis Xavier Church at Hyannis after attending mass. The Chief Executive was spending the weekend at the family summer home in nearby Hyannis Port. On the far right is Secret Service Agent Roy Kellerman who would be chosen to be the coordinator of the Secret Service's Assassination Team while it carried out its "Executive Action" in Dallas on November 22, 1963. The President, a Knight of Columbus and son of one of Francis Cardinal Spellman's most powerful Knights of Malta – Joseph P. Kennedy – was educated at Harvard University, with its strong Jesuit presence, while Jackie gave birth to JFK, Jr., at Georgetown University Hospital. Aided by the Mafia, the Order had installed its first Irish Roman Catholic into the high office of the American Presidency. But John Kennedy turned on the Temporal Power of Rome's Papal Caesar by refusing to enforce the Pope's claim to rule all the governments of the world. Kennedy sought to break the power of the Black Pope's Central Intelligence Agency; attacked the Order's Federal Reserve Bank by printing "United States Notes" in lieu of "Federal Reserve Notes;" sought to end Cardinal Spellman's War in Vietnam; and attempted to warn the American People of a conspiracy within their CFR-controlled Executive Branch of government "to enslave every man, woman and child." For this reason the Jesuit Order coldly carried out its "crime of the century."
