

Sažetak:

Fudbal danas uživa veliku popularnost, kako među odraslima, tako i među djecom. Međutim, primjetan je novi trend među mlađom populacijom, koji se ogleda u sve većoj orijentaciji ka školama fudbala, za razliku od nekadašnjeg velikog afiniteta prema rekreativnoj igri sa vršnjacima, koja je danas dosta rijetka pojava. Danas se učenje fudbalske igre odvija u školama fudbala, pod stalnim stručnim nadzorom profesionalnog osoblja. Plan i program rada mora biti prilagođen mladim osobama, i mora obavezno da prati njihov fiziološki, morfološki i psihološki razvoj. Pored osnovnog sportskog programa obuke, u školama fudbala potrebno je provoditi i pedagoški rad sa djecom, kako bi sama obuka imala višestruke efekte. Primjenom svih načela i propisa, u školi fudbala se mogu proizvesti kvalitetni mladi fudbaleri koji će kasnije nastaviti graditi svoju profesionalnu karijeru.

Ključne riječi: fudbal, škola fudbala, fudbalska tehnika, pedagoški rad, program rada.

Summary:

Football today has great popularity, as within adult population, also within children. However, there can be noticed a new trend within younger population, which is reflected in bigger orientation to football schools, unlike former big affinity to recreational game amongst peers, which is pretty rare occasion today. Nowadays, learning of football game is happening in football schools, under constant and expert supervision of professional personell. Plan and work program has to be adjusted to young people, and to follow their physiological, morphological and psychological development. Besides basic sports program of training, in football schools it is necessary to carry out pedagogical work with children, in order to achieve multiple effects of training. By application of all principles and regulations, in football schools it is possible to make quality young football players, who will later continue to develop their professional career.

Keywords: football, football school, football technique, pedagogical work, work program.