

Contents

	Acknowledgments	vii
	Introduction	1
1	Corporations and Civil Society: Institutional Externalities of Corporate Power	8
2	The Turbulence of the 1980s	31
I	Overview and Background
3	Contractarians and Imposers	61
4	Contractarians and Balancers	83
5	Major Delaware Decisions of the 1980s and 1990s	97
II	Sources of Judicial Drift
6	Why Contractarians Fail to Explain Judicial Behavior	131
7	Why Imposers Fail to Explain Judicial Behavior	145
8	Legislative Action: Stakeholder Balancing and Its Limits	163
9	Contractarian Reaction: Opting Out	187
III	Corporate Law and Judicial Practice in a Global Economy
10	America's Constitutional Court for Intermediary Associations	207
11	Beyond the Failures: A Threshold of Procedural Norms	230
12	Time-Warner and Institutional Externalities: From Culture to Form	259
13	Explaining and Predicting Judicial Behavior in a Global Economy	282
	Notes	313
	References	375
	Index	399
	About the Author	407