1 You Can Program	1
What Is Programming?	1
Introduction to Your Programming Tools	2
Our First Program	6
Elements of C++ Programs	10
A Playpen Doesn't Have To Be White	11
Plotting a Point	13
Mixing Colors	15
Modern Art?	15
Tasks, Exercises and Fun	16
Roberta's Comments	18
Summary	18

2 You Can Loop	21
Drawing a Cross	21
for-Loops	22
Drawing a Cross Revisited	26
Practicing Looping	27
Simple Arithmetic Operators	28
Roberta's Comments	31
Solutions to Exercises	32
Summary	33
3 You Can Write a Function	35
Drawing a Square	35
The Function Concept	36
Functions in C++	37
Writing a Function	38
Header and Implementation Files	42
Drawing Lines	44
Drawing Sets of Lines	47
Creating Your Own Utility Functions	50
Roberta's Comments	51
Solutions to Exercises	51
Summary	52
4 You Can Communicate	55
Names and Namespaces	55
Interaction	56
The char and int Types	57
Streams	59
The string Type	61
Creating a Simple Dialog	61
Sequence Containers	63
Walkthrough	65
Getting ints from the Keyboard	69
Handling the Unexpected	70
Roberta's Comments	74
Hints	74
Solutions to Exercises	74
Summary	81
5 You Can Create a Type	83
On Not Being Underrated	83
Designing a Type	84
The double Type	85
Creating a Two-Dimensional Point Type	87
Roberta's Comments	101
Solutions to Exercises	101
Summary	101
6 You Can Use point2d	105
Adding Functionality with Free Functions	105
Supporting I/O for point2d	107

Drawing Lines and Polygons	108
Drawing Regular Polygons	113
A Type and an Origin	115
Roberta's Comments	117
Hints	117
Solutions to Tasks	118
Solutions to Exercises	124
Summary	126
7 You Can Have Fun	127
Valuing Your Skills	127
Just for Fun	127
Fun Programming Ideas	130
Looking Forward	130
8 You Can Write a Menu	135
Offering a Set of Choices	135
Dealing with Dependencies	145
Functions that Fill a Polygon	148
Roberta's Comments	151
Solutions to Tasks	151
Solutions to Exercises	153
Summary	153
9 You Can Keep Data	155
Saving and Restoring Images	155
Using Captured Data	157
A Menu-Driven Program with Persistence	161
Further Practice	169
Iterators	169
Before the Next Chapter	173
Hints	174
Solutions to Tasks	174
Summary	182
10 Lotteries, Ciphers and Random Choices	185
Random and Pseudo-Random Sequences	185
Algorithms for Random Numbers	186
Understanding a Lottery Program	187
Sending Hidden Messages	196
Over to You	201
Roberta's Comments	202
Solutions to Tasks	204
Summary	205
11 Keyboards and Mice	207
A Keyboard Type	207
Using a Mouse	213
Refactoring Code	217
More Practice	220
Roberta's Comments	222

Solutions to Exercises	222
Summary	227
12 A Pot Pourri Spiced with Bitset	229
Computing a List of Primes	229
A Weaving Simulation	235
Dr Conway's Game of Life	239
Roberta's Comments	246
Solutions to Tasks	246
Summary	247
13 How Many...? in Which Set and Map Lend a Hand	249
What Is an Associative Container?	249
What Is a Set?	249
What Is a Map?	253
Roberta's Comments	257
Solutions to Tasks	257
Solutions to Exercises	258
Summary	261
14 Getting, Storing and Restoring Graphical Items	263
Preparing to Program	263
Icons, Sprites and Related Items	264
Making a Font	271
Displaying a String in the Playpen	277
Roberta's Comments	278
Solutions to Tasks	278
Solutions to Exercises	283
Summary	286
15 Functions as Objects and Simple Animation	287
Functions that Remember	287
First Steps to Animation	296
A Matter of Palettes	302
More Advanced Animation	303
Roberta's Comments	307
Solutions to Tasks	308
Solutions to Exercises	311
Summary	313
16 Turtles and Eating Your Own Tail	315
Some History	315
Designing a Turtle Type	316
Exploring Turtle Graphics	321
Recursion	324
Wrapping It Up	326
Roberta's Comments	328
Solutions to Tasks	328
Summary	330

17 You Can Program	331
What Use Is What You Have Learnt?	331
Games-Based Problems	332
Analytical Problems	335
Mathematical Problems	336
Conclusion	339
Where Next	339
Appendix A: Some Common Errors	341
Index	343
