
Contents

PART ONE THE CASE FOR PROJECT MANAGEMENT

- | | |
|---|----|
| 1. Project Management Is a Strategic Strength | 5 |
| Eric Verzuh | |
| 2. Leading the Change to a Project-Based Organization | 26 |
| Robert J. Graham and Randall L. Englund | |

PART TWO THE PROJECT MANAGEMENT DISCIPLINE

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 3. Project Selection | 59 |
| Jack R. Meredith and Samuel J. Mantel Jr. | |
| 4. Building the Action Plan: Scheduling, Estimating, and Resource Allocation | 98 |
| Eric Verzuh | |
| 5. Achieving Stakeholder Satisfaction through Project Control | 142 |
| Eric Verzuh | |
| 6. Project Risk Management | 179 |
| Eric Verzuh | |

7. Quality, Quality Management, and Project Management 207
Ned Hamson

PART THREE BUILDING A HIGH-PERFORMANCE PROJECT TEAM

8. A Model for Building Teamwork 251
Elaine Biech

9. Discipline: The Glue That Holds It All Together 262
Neal Whitten

10. Virtual Team Critical Success Factors 287
Deborah L. Duarte and Nancy Tennant Snyder

PART FOUR MANAGING THE PROJECT-BASED ORGANIZATION

11. Stage-Gate™ New Product Development Processes:
A Game Plan from Idea to Launch 309
Robert G. Cooper

12. Enterprise Project Management: The Path to Maturity 347
Denis Couture

13. Creating an Environment for Successful Projects in
Your Organization 378
Robert J. Graham and Randall L. Englund

14. Integrating Project Management into the Enterprise 394
Eric Verzuh

- Index 423